

Aviso eAlerts & eReceipts™

Real-Time Alerts for a Real-Time World ... and More

Aviso gives your credit union the opportunity to save money, while providing your members with unprecedented convenience and peace of mind.

Aviso gives your members the option to receive standard alerts, as well as notices and transaction receipts, via email or email-to-SMS text. Aviso also provides members with a convenient means to research previous alerts, eNotices and eReceipts.

The member can even configure different delivery methods for different types of alerts. This means members receive the information they want, when and where they want it. And of course, alerts also help prevent fraud.

The eReceipts module offers members the convenience of having their transaction receipts emailed to them. You can store member preferences for how their receipts are delivered or simply prompt at each transaction.

When members opt in to receive eNotices through Aviso, the result is substantial hard-dollar savings for your credit union. Simply multiply the cost to send a single notice by the number of notices your credit union generates each year, and it's easy to see the potential savings.

Aviso modules — alerts, eNotices and eReceipts — are available individually to meet your credit union's specific needs.
